

600-600 PLAN MAY CRUISE A SPLIT.

Mayor Strong and Others Believe in an Anti-Tammany Fusion.

MANY OTHERS WITH HIM.

"Without That We Cannot Hope to Elect Our Candidate," They Say.

ALL WAITING FOR GOV. BLACK.

When He Disposes of the Charter the Action Will Begin—Gold Democrats Waiting to See the Cat Jump.

To fuse (with the Republicans) or not to fuse—that is the question over which the Citizens' Union is divided. The Good Government Club element is in favor of going ahead, regardless of any party or faction; but there are wise politicians in the organization who are not in favor of this plan.

For Fusion.
Wm. L. Strong, H. W. Cannon, G. B. Sheldon, J. B. Ehrlich, J. Davenport, Gen. W. Swayne, C. B. T. Collins.
Against.
R. F. Cuttings, J. B. Reynolds, J. Kennedy Tod, Chas. S. Smith, Jas. W. Pryor, John C. Clark, Hubert Chills, Edw. D. Page, John G. Ager.

The two lists show some of the champions of the opposing ideas. The fusionists are certain that unless the strength of the Republican organization be added to the Citizens' Union, Tammany will elect the Mayor for Greater New York. The straight ticket men believe that with candidates put in the field just as soon as Governor Black signs or vetoes the Greater New York charter, a campaign of education in non-partisan municipal politics may begin that will, by November, gather strength enough to elect the Citizens' Union candidates.

The meeting of the Executive Committee Monday night, and the informal decision to go ahead without fusion, at once, may after all not settle it. Indeed, many Platt Republicans expect now to see a split and a fight over that programme. The Good Government Club men, under R. Fulton Cutting and James B. Reynolds, forced the Union into the committee. If the plan be carried out, some expect a bolt in the interest of a fusion ticket. Below will be found expressions from leading Republicans, in interviews on the question, "To fuse, or not to fuse?"

Mayor Strong—While I don't desire to pose as an adviser of the Citizens' Union leaders, yet I have the right to my personal opinion as to the best way to defeat Tammany next Fall. The wisest move would be a union of all the anti-Tammany forces, such a fusion as resulted in success in 1894. Tammany will win, I have no doubt, if the Citizens' Union and the Republicans put straight tickets in the field.

Tammany is in good condition, and the Metropolitan Democrats in Brooklyn are also well organized. They and Tammany are sure to get together.

If we are divided we cannot defeat them.

The Citizens' Union is wise in beginning the campaign early, but it seems to me it would be very wise to put a ticket into the field without consultation with other anti-Tammany organizations. I have no doubt of success if a union ticket is nominated. Victory would be as sure as it was in 1894 if the union ticket were headed by such a man as Cornelius N. Allen, or Seth Low, or Mayor Blackwell.

William Blackwell—To put a Citizens' Union non-partisan ticket into the field immediately after Governor Black disposes of the charter, would, in my opinion, be most unwise.

Edward Lauterbach—The Citizens' Union has said it would not confer or combine with any other organization. They will doubtless carry out that programme. The Good Government Club has the same policy and carried it out in 1895.

The same number of votes will probably be cast for the Citizens' nominee for Mayor—if any unhappy victim can be found—as were cast for the last Good Government ticket.

I do not take much interest in amateur performances. The hope seems about to be realized that Republicans who may be truly classed as such will cleave to a party organization, convinced that chasing all of the wings through the swamp of misgovernment is a poor and unprofitable pastime.

Mayor Warner, of Brooklyn—it would be unwise, it seems to me, for the Citizens' Union to name a candidate for Mayor in advance of action by the independent of the two great parties. If the independent party, that chasing all of the wings through the swamp of misgovernment is a poor and unprofitable pastime.

If the union nominate a man and he be not endorsed either by the Republicans or the Democrats he could never expect to be elected, and the Republican party is not strong enough to win alone.

My idea of getting good government is that some arrangement such as brought about the nomination of Mayor Strong be entered into. Let the Citizens' Union, the Good Government and Republican organizations get together and agree on a first rate man. I believe that such a man should be an independent Republican, for the reason that that party would cast 70 per cent of the vote.

John E. Mitholland—By all means put a ticket at once in the field. Don't wait for the machines to make nominations; let them follow after. The Executive Committee should not let the adverse criticism of those who have not studied the situation alarm them. Regardless of the machines and the politicians, the Citizens' Union should nominate their ticket, ratify it at a mass meeting at Madison Square Garden, and then let the people know that a ticket is a Citizens' ticket, nominated without any dictating with machines or politicians. You may trust the people to rally around such a ticket.

When the Republican machine sees that patronage dickering is out of the question it will endorse the Citizens' ticket, just as Platt endorsed McKinley and Crocker Cleveland.

Republican machine men of Kings County said yesterday that the Citizens' Union had made no overtures to them, but that they understood that an attempt had been made to interest representative independent Republicans in the movement.

Those Citizens' Union leaders who have conferred with representatives of national (gold) Democratic organization, were told that the gold Democrats have hopes that the Tammany machine men view the present situation in the Citizens' Union camp as indicative of a final fusion with the anti-Tammany elements. Some of the Platt men declare that "the wish is father to the thought." Assemblyman Harvey S. Andrews, formerly member of the Good Government organization, said yesterday, "I don't believe the Citizens' Union will nominate a straight non-partisan ticket."

Fusion Is Expected.
The Republican machine men view the present situation in the Citizens' Union camp as indicative of a final fusion with the anti-Tammany elements. Some of the Platt men declare that "the wish is father to the thought." Assemblyman Harvey S. Andrews, formerly member of the Good Government organization, said yesterday, "I don't believe the Citizens' Union will nominate a straight non-partisan ticket."

Leaders of the Assembly district organizations met the Citizens' Enrollment Committee at headquarters, No. 39 East Twenty-third street, last night, and reported the progress of the movement throughout New York. The following leaders made reports: First District, Joseph N. Stephens; Second, S. V. R. Townsend; Fourth, Julius Blumberg; Eighth, Edwin A. Waldo; Twelfth, Edward J. Mandel; Fourteenth, John Brooks Leavitt; Seventeenth, Dr. Henry L. Taylor; Eighteenth, J. A. Johnson; Nineteenth, James M. Price; Twentieth, J. K. Warner; Twenty-second, Edward S. Kassing; Twenty-third, Newell Martin; Twenty-fifth, Professor N. M. Butler; Twenty-ninth, Roland Holt; Thirty-first, D. Kenyon.

Organization committees have been formed in nearly all the Assembly districts, numbering from about a dozen to twenty. Some of the districts are ones in which no Good Government clubs had previously been organized. Headquarters are to be opened in several of the more thickly populated districts, and next week meetings will be held.

The list of possible nominees on the present election district basis, as the new apportionment will not be made until July 1. Arrangements have been made in the Twenty-fifth Assembly District for the holding of six meetings, one of which will take place at Citizens Union headquarters next night. A business men's meeting will be held there to-night.

Public Meetings to Be Held.
The Committee on Labor and Social Reform will hold public meetings after the charter has been disposed of. The first will be in Cooper Union, probably on the evening of May 25. Among the speakers will be Dr. Raines.

BANNARD HIS CHOICE?
It is said that he is Mayor Strong's selection to fill the vacancy in the School Board.

School Commissioners who have the Mayor's confidence expect that His Honor will to-day appoint Otto T. Bannard to fill the vacancy in the Board left by the death of Commissioner William J. Van Arsdale.

Mr. Bannard is wealthy and has been for many years conspicuous in the city. He is president of the Continental Trust Company, at No. 30 Broad street, and lives at No. 135 Madison avenue.

Mr. Bannard is the president and one of the chief promoters of the Penny Provident Fund, a charity which maintains several small stations in the city for the support of small dealers—a savings bank with many branches. Twenty-five of these branches are in public schools. If Mr. Bannard becomes a School Commissioner it is expected that the Fund will have a branch in every school in the city within a year.

Another candidate whose friends are strongly urging him for the vacant commissionership is Hanford Crawford, manager of the Standard Oil Company, at No. 30 Broad street, and lives at No. 135 Madison avenue.

Mr. Crawford served for many years as a school trustee in the Twenty-second Ward, and is now a school inspector in the Twenty-third District. He is a member of the Citizens' Union Committee of Two Hundred and Fifty.

President Charles Bulfinch Hubbell, of the Board of Education, is carrying out a new policy of putting the Public School Department in active co-operation with other agencies of the city government. His latest scheme is a project to raise grain in Central Park for an object lesson to the school children.

The School Board is co-operating with Colonel Warner also in training children to help keep the streets clean. William Brennan, a boy who recently graduated from the public schools, has been employed to organize the school children into associations.

DWYER BLOCKS THE WAY.
Prevents Tammany from Electing a Successor to Olcott.

Alderman Dwyer, the O'Reilente member of the Board of Aldermen, has stopped all efforts to elect a successor to W. M. K. Olcott, now District-Attorney. The old Twenty-third District, which Olcott represented, is likely to remain without a member until it derives representation under the new charter.

Dwyer is anxious to sit in the new Municipal Council, and if he could secure a nomination from the Wigwag he would, in return, vote with the Tammany members of the Board for a Democratic success Olcott. But Tammany has not encouraged his advances, because of slight political disturbances in Dwyer's present district.

"If Dwyer would vote with the Democrats they would have sixteen, enough to name a new man. His vote, with the Republicans on the other side, would give them fourteen, with President Jenolan a doubtful fifteenth. Thus to them he is useless."

The Leading Malt Extract.
Malt-Nutrine is the only really great Extract of Malt offered on the market, all other so-called extracts being nothing but water, strong black beer with a large percentage of Alcohol and a very small one of extractive matter. Such extracts should not be given or recommended to convalescents or strength-seeking people, since their merits are all on the label and not in the bottle.—Advt.

MRS. FIELDS AS SHE SAT AMONG THE SPECTATORS IN COURT

Harold Fields, a Musician Aged Twelve Years, Charged with Arson.

BOY MUSICIAN HELD FOR ARSON.

His Confession to the Fire Marshal Used Effectively.

NOW HE DENIES IT ALL.

Declares the Officials Framed a Question and Scared Him Into Saying "Yes."

Harold Fields, the delicate, sensitive, brown-eyed boy of twelve years who was arrested on Monday charged with having set fire to a dwelling at No. 623 Amsterdam avenue, in which not only his mother and grandmother lived, but which contained a large number of other tenants, has been held for the Grand Jury.

This means that a number of grave men, especially qualified to pass upon criminals and their acts, will in due time listen to everything that may be said against the lad, and if they so see it will order that he be tried for arson.

Fifteen hundred dollars is the amount of bail required for the release of the boy from the custody of the authorities into that of his mother, pending the decision of the Grand Jury. The mother and the grandmother combined cannot raise so large a sum of money. All they can do is weep and protest their faith in the boy's innocence. Meantime, however, the tender age of the lad and that alone saves him from being locked up in the Tombs. His place of confinement is the rooms of the Gerry Society.

Outside of Fire Marshal Mitchell, who caused the boy's arrest, and a fireman and a policeman, who, with the Marshal, firmly believe him guilty, and the boy's unhappy relatives and friends, who as strongly believe in his innocence, all persons having any knowledge of the case are asking themselves, "Is he a prodigy, or is he simply mischievous, or is he the victim of official bulldozing?" Meantime the little fellow expects himself to sleep last night, pitifully asking for his mother, whom he seems to idolize, and refusing to be comforted.

Boy of Singular Temperament.
Since his arrest on Monday the boy has shown a strange oscillation between courage and despair. In the presence of his captors he has invariably dried his eyes and tried to be brave. But when with his mother, or when alone, and as he thought, unobserved, he has given way to the most piteous grief. He is, as his mother has claimed, a boy of peculiar temperament. Small even for his twelve years, he seems to have a remarkably well-developed intellect. At school he was considerably in advance of other boys of his own age, and, while he was not unmanly, he was not given to the society and petting of his schoolmates. He seemed to care more for the companionship of his mother than his schoolmates.

His love for music has been an absorbing passion. It was clearly inherited, for his mother, who has been known as a violinist, who had gained a fair reputation, Vienna, and had then come to this country, where he added to his reputation. His mother, too, also a violinist, supports her mother and only child by giving music lessons.

Harold's appearance is altogether prepossessing, without a single trace of any of the markings which Professor Lombroso would have one believe are necessary to the composition of the degenerate. He is strikingly handsome, with large brown eyes, well-shaped head and ears, a form delicate almost to fragility, but with a frank expression of countenance that makes it hard to believe that he would commit a crime so desperate as the firing of a house which shelters more than ten families.

The Arraignment in Court.
A strong point in his favor is that the neighbors are unanimously his supporters in his present trouble. Many of them were in the Yorkville Court yesterday afternoon wrought there by a policeman, and arraigned before Magistrate Cornell. His mother, a handsome woman of about thirty, with a strong, pleasant, and a very small one of extractive matter. Such extracts should not be given or recommended to convalescents or strength-seeking people, since their merits are all on the label and not in the bottle.—Advt.

The boy's statement about the habit of the house was that he had been in the room through the cellar is correct, and what is more, it is an easy matter for any one to enter the cellar from the rear, as there is a vacant lot back of the house which opens up a side street, so that strangers could easily get into the cellar without attracting attention. In fact more than one stranger has been seen to enter the yard and afterward emerge into Amsterdam avenue in this way.

Fire Plays Havoc in an Ohio Town.
Caldwell, Ohio, May 4.—Fire today destroyed $60,000 worth of property in the centre of the business portion. The insurance amounts to only $40,000.

hour of 3:15 o'clock. The complaint went on to say that the fire was discovered in the cellar, and that Albert St. John, a tenant of the house, had made affidavit that he had seen Harold leaving the cellar some fifteen minutes previous to the time when the fire was discovered. Fire Marshal Mitchell, Henry Hauck, a fireman, and Albert Roloff, a policeman of the Twenty-fifth Precinct, also made affidavit that the prisoner had admitted in their presence that he had lighted a piece of paper in the cellar on the day in question and had thrown it aside.

Then the Magistrate held the youthful prisoner in $1,500 bail, as has been said.

The Boy's Own Story.
Before being taken back to the rooms of the Gerry Society he was allowed to sit with his mother in an ante-room. For a time he made no efforts to restrain his grief, nor did she. Occasionally he spoke to her in German, but more often in English. When he finally regained his composure he said in his mother's presence to a reporter, "I am innocent, and I know nothing whatever about any of the fires which have occurred either at the house where I live, or at the house that have occurred in that neighborhood. Sunday afternoon I generally go to Sunday school at St. Agnes' Church, but last Sunday I had been playing the violin, and found that I was too late. Some time after 3 o'clock, I thought I should get my roller skates and play in the back yard. To get to the back yard I always go through the cellar. Every one in the house knew the same. My mother lives next door, and I use the same pair of skates, and we always keep them in a hole in the cellar. I had been playing in the yard only a little while when Pauline, the servant girl, who lives in the next house, called to me to get me to read a letter which she had brought from Germany, so I went through the cellar again, and was reading the letter to her when I heard the noise of the fire. I ran out into the street, and tried to see the fire with the other boys, but there were a lot of people there and I could not get away. I saw Willie Lee and I saw two tramps. I guess they were standing in the cellar doorway. They were a policeman came up to me and asked who the landlord was. I told him it was Mrs. Flynn, and took him to her."

Arrested in School.
The next day three men came to my school on Seventy-seventh street, and asked me a lot of questions. I told them that I didn't know anything about the fire, and they said that they would have a search of the house. They went to the house and found a lot of things. They said that they were a marshal and could put little boys in the jail, and all the way to the city hall. They said they were going to put me in the jail, and I was very much frightened. I told them that I was a boy and that I was not a criminal, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and told them what had happened, and they said that they would let me go. I went home and told my mother what had happened, and she was very much frightened. She said that she would take me to the police station and tell them what had happened. I went to the police station and